Special Issue Will Not Be Necessary after
July 1.(SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—Postmaster General Burleson has signed an order making the distinctive parcel post stamps valid for postage on all classes of mail and after July 1, 1913.

By the same order the ordinary postage stamps, including commemorative issues, are made valid for postage, and for insurance and collect-on-deliver fees on fourth class mail.

The regular issues of due stamps and distinctive parcel post due stamps will be valid for the payment of short-paid postage on all classes of mail matter. When the stock of parcel post stamps and parcel post due stamps on hand is exhausted, no additional supply will be printed.

The distinctive parcel post stamp has proved exceedingly annoying to the public, resulting in much confusion, as this particular issue of stamps could only be used on the one class of mail matter. This special stamp was intended only for the purpose of determining accurately the extent of the revenues derived from this particular class of mail. As sufficient information has been obtained on that point, Postmaster General Burleson believes that the public should be relieved of any further confusion that might be caused by the restricted use of these special stamps.

BUYS THEATER.

MORGANTOWN, June 28.—Lawrence Myers, a motion picture operator of Clarksburg, has purchased the Hippodrome theater here from W. A. Ream and has taken charge of it.
